SAT, AUGUST 29	Course Time	8:00 AM—11:30 AM

THE PROGRAM

Molar endodontic treatment is a challenging endeavour for all clinicians. Typical barriers to successful and predictable endodontics are access, orifice location, gaining patency, rotary instrumentation, irrigation and obturation. Recent advances in technology, materials, and equipment have made it possible to improve the predictability and success of your endodontic treatment.

This 6 hour course will allow motivated clinicians to improve their ability to perform advanced endodontic treatment. Participants will learn how to refine access for molar teeth, locate canals, efficiently gain patency, instrument canals, obturate efficiently and minimize the risk of rotary file separation. Without a doubt, this course will help you master molar endodontics.

PRESENTERS

Dr. Pommy Hallen, BSc (Microbiology), DMD, FRCD(C),

Cert. Endo

Dr. Pommy Hallen received his Bachelors of Science at the University of British Columbia in Microbiology in 1996. Following his graduation from the UBC School of Dentistry in 2002, Dr. Hallen spent eight years as a General Practitioner, where he developed a passion for endodontics. During these years, Dr. Hallen was active as a Clinical Assistant Professor at the UBC Dental School teaching students clinical endodontics. His desire to seek specialty training in endodontics lead him to Los Angeles to the University of Southern California. He received his certificate in advanced endodontics from USC. At USC, Dr. Hallen honed his clinical skills in all aspects of advanced endodontic treatment and endodontic microsurgery using the surgical operating microscope.

Dr. Hallen is a member of the American Association of Endodontics, B.C. Dental Association, and also the Canadian Dental Association.

Dr. Michael Sha, BSc, DMD, FRCD(C), Cert. Endo

Dr. Michael Sha graduated from UBC Dentistry in 2007 and went on to complete his Endodontic specialty training from Temple University in 2010. Dr. Sha has been practicing full time as an Endodontic Specialist in Abbotsford and in Maple Ridge.

As a fellow of the Royal College of Dentists of Canada and a Certified Endodontic Specialist in BC and Canada, Dr. Sha guarantees unsurpassed quality of care for his patients.
